at 1600 on Wednesday 10 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Remaining very cold with a few snow showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Snow showers will gradually ease overnight, with most places becoming dry with clear skies after midnight. As winds fall light temperatures will plummet bringing a severe frost, some icy stretches and patches of freezing fog. Minimum temperature -9 deg C (16 deg F).

Thursday:
Dry with plenty of sunshine, once any fog clears. However, it will be very cold with residual lying snow on the ground. A brisk breeze developing in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Likely remaining very cold throughout, particularly with strengthening southeasterly winds. Mainly dry and sunny on Friday and Saturday. Possibly turning cloudier on Sunday but staying largely dry.
